courses 2012

Tŷ-Mawr has been running specialist courses in traditional and ecological building since 1996 on the site of their head office, formerly a working farm and still the home of the founders of Tŷ-Mawr Lime in the heart of the Brecon Beacons National Park. The newly restored grade 2* listed training centre was officially re-opened by Their Royal Highnesses, The Prince of Wales and Duchess of Cornwall in June 2009.

Delegates attend from all over the world not only attracted by the quality of teaching but also the 'backdrop' – the on-going restoration of the whole farm complex provides an exemplar for what can be done using traditional and ecological materials and technologies.

“Great course all round – beautiful location and knowledgeable and friendly staff – I will recommend to others.” O HARRIS
